

Vocabulary Chapters 4-6 of Animal Farm

1. _____ v. to be next to
 2. _____ n. a percentage of money earned on the sale of an item
 3. _____ adj. easily managed; obedient
 4. _____ adj. without preparation
 5. _____ adj. shameful; dishonorable
 6. _____ v. to look down on; judge
 7. _____ n. legally responsible
 8. _____ v. to obtain
 9. _____ adj. uncontrollable
 10. _____ to show something clearly
 11. _____ adj. entangled in a thick mass
 12. _____ v. rest or sleep
- A. At the party after the game, the coach made an impromptu speech on the value of failures as well as successes.
 - B. On any given day at least one student asks if he or she may procure a pencil to complete the writing assignment in class.
 - C. The woman was held liable for the man's murder, even though she was not directly involved; all she did was supply the murder weapon.
 - D. When the mayor ignominiously stole money from the town, he lost all respect from the townspeople.
 - E. The parent looked upon their children with scorn when they were sent home for cheating on an exam.
 - F. After opening the window and driving down the highway, her hair became matted. It took 20 minutes to brush it out.
 - G. Ms. Senff's room adjoins Ms. Nordt's room.
 - H. A dog will be more tractable if you approach it with kindness.
 - I. She declined a job at a car dealership because she didn't want to work on commission. She wanted a steady income, not one that relied on others' purchases.
 - J. He has an irrepressible sense of humor; he is always making jokes.
 - K. It has come to be that the pigs, who were manifestly cleverer than the other animals, should decide all questions on farm policy.
 - L. All being settled and reposed, the lord archbishop did present his majesty to the lords and commons.